COMPANY PROFILE;

ELEVATING DESIGN SHAPING SOLUTIONS

From concept, through development and into project completion, we are committed to a design approach which demands the full creative involvement of the architect and the client. The process is one of listening, asking, analyzing and engaging each client as a participant in design. The collaboration explores possible physical solutions suggested from a thorough understanding of the project's needs and unique parameters of the site. The shared goal is to reveal the project's singular nature and to discover through design an identity that is individual and memorable.

We do not promote a particular style of architecture. Rather, we look to the physical, programmatic and social influences of the building's context to guide us to an appropriate architectural design that creates a memorable sense of place. Each of our projects tries to enrich one's experience of space, light, context, materials and craftsmanship through the experience of architecture.

Our primary concern is to develop concepts and images that are responsive to the requirements and aspirations of our clients within the realistic constraints imposed by schedule and budget.

Des Holmes Architects Pty Ltd & currently Sugar & Holmes Architects, have recently completed several building projects with the Department of Housing, Melbourne Water, Barwon Water, PT Victoria & Metro Trains, and have worked in association with KBR, John Holland Group, Watpac, and Lyons Contractors on recent Public projects. These projects were relatively complex for their size, and several included Heritage Planning, VRIOGS & DDA design considerations.

OUR TEAM

After several years of close collaboration on a number of prestige architectural projects, Peter Sugar of Sugar & Company Architects, and Des Holmes of Des Holmes Architects, decided in 2015 to formally amalgamate their individual practices to create Sugar & Holmes Architecture in order to offer a seamless, professional service for their individual residential, developer and institutional clients.

DES HOLMES - DIRECTOR

Dip. Arch. (Hons) Dublin Institute of Technology / B.Arch Sc. Trinity College Dublin.

Des Holmes graduated from DIT in 1983. He worked in several Architectural practices in Ireland, London, and the USA, he then moved to Australia in 1988 and joined Hassell Architects Melbourne until 1994.

In 1994 Des set up Des Holmes Architects P/L, and so founded a progressive and efficient Architectural practice, dedicated to providing imaginative, energy efficient and cost-effective solutions to his Clients' needs.

Des Holmes Architects P/L successfully completed many varied projects including Custom Residential, Residential alterations, Multi-Residential, Commercial Fit-outs, University & Rail Infrastructure, and Government Department of Housing.

While the combination of two Architectural Practices in 2015 has resulted in the capacity to take on larger and more complex projects, the care and thoughtfulness which has always defined our Projects will continue

PETER SUGAR – DIRECTOR

Bachelor of Architecture (Melb).

Peter Sugar graduated from Melbourne University School of Architecture in 1976. After a period as a project architect on a variety of major developments in Britain, Italy and the Middle East, he returned to Melbourne, Australia and was for some years a director of Caulfield, Krivanek & Sugar, Architects.

On leaving to form Sugar & Company, he established an architectural practice dedicated to meeting clients needs through exceptional client service. Peter is a firm believer that this begins by listening – listening to understand the clients' needs and wants, being flexible and following through is the only way to “get it right”. This allows Peter to provide the information required to allow clients to make the best informed decision.

Another of Peter's strengths is utilizing his unique problem solving skills to coordinate team efforts to address complex design issues and challenging budgets. “I enjoy managing projects by leading the entire team to work together toward a common goal – a successful project and a happy client”.
